

GIVE THE gift OF THE ARTS

Here is what some of our contributors have to say about the Partners Program...

“I cannot think of a better way to promote the arts and the Phillips Center than through the Partners Program. Inviting individuals who normally do not have the opportunity to attend our performances is a win-win situation. We create goodwill for the Phillips Center while inspiring our new audience to enjoy the performing arts.”

— Aase Thompson

“I feel especially compelled to donate to this program now that the arts have been cut from many school programs. I feel that it is a responsibility to share University of Florida Performing Arts with our wonderful community.”

— Susannah Peddie

These excerpts from the letters of ticket recipients convey the impact that your donation can have...

“Thank you for giving us the tickets to the performance. I’ll remember it for the rest of my life.”

“With limited resources, it is often difficult to provide entertainment for the children. It is very rare that they can attend something like a performance at the Phillips Center.”

“We really enjoyed the event and it was an experience of a lifetime.”

Give the gift of the arts by becoming a Performing Arts PARTNER

The Performing Arts Partners Program was created to bring the arts to those who might not otherwise have the opportunity to experience the magical and transformative power of a live performance. By securing funding for tickets through community contributions, this program is able to bring the arts to the physically and mentally challenged, at-risk students and other underserved populations.

Tickets are distributed by a group of UFPA Advisory Board members. Suggestions and recommendations for groups to be included in the program are always welcomed.

Partners Program donors receive a report at the end of the season detailing the use of their contributions and their names are listed in all UFPA performance programs.
